

THE BAATH MESSAGE

From the National Leadership to the Brotherly and Friendly Parties

Syria & Iran: Example of Regional Cooperation

His Excellency President Bashar Assad discussed with Saeed Jalili, Secretary of the Higher Council of National Security in Iran, the special cooperation relations which link Syria and Iran together in all fields and the continued interest of the two countries leaderships in enhancing such relations for serving the two friendly peoples interests.

President Assad emphasized Iran right to peaceful nuclear energy enrichment. They both stressed the importance of continued coordination and consultation between Syria and Iran for serving the security and stability of the region and its peoples.

Mr. Jalili said that his meeting with President Assad was very important. He stressed that the profound relations and common view of the two countries toward regional and international issues require the consultations and meetings. He clarified that President Assad supports the logic of Iran, pertaining to its nuclear program.

The Iranian nuclear issue was discussed by President Assad and the French President Sarkouzi in Paris where President Assad made it clear that Syria is not mediating for this field, but it is supporting the content of the Non Proliferation Treaty and Iran's right to uranium enrichment and peaceful use of nuclear energy. He emphasized the need to focus on the efforts for a political solution through dialogue.

Syria always emphasizes that the major challenges, facing the region, necessitate the search for a means for coordinating the efforts in order to achieve an effective presence on the international arena for protecting the interests and maintaining the identity, because the historical links, which bring together the countries of the region, provide a ground for achieving more cooperation and integration in these fields.

The Syrian-Iranian relations led to a wider space of regional cooperation and a broader circle of dialogue that support the existing bridges and build an economical block that positively interact with the others interests.

There are positive climates for supporting the relations between the region nations and promote them up to their highest levels in all fields, because they basically rely on historical relations, mutual interests and geographical factors that help improve and immune them.

In his speech, delivered before the Congress, Dr. Abbas stressed that the Capitalism crisis is an exceptional one the world never saw since 1929. It is the result of the capitalist system nature and unjust practices which centrifuged the developing countries out of the world economy influence circle and Bush administration caused the accelerated emergence of the global structural economic crisis and its increased severity by giving full rein to uncontrolled free market.

Dr. Abbas added that the Arab region suffered most from Bush stupid policies, such as the occupation of Iraq, the US-backed Zionist aggression on Lebanon in 2006 and on Gaza in 2008- 2009 and the US plan of the Greater Middle East which wanted to disperse the existing political entities in the region and replace them by tiny conflicting entities, under the Slogan of "Creative Chaos" and "War on Terrorism".

Dr. Abbas lauded the steadfastness of the brave resistance in Iraq, Lebanon and Palestine, thanks to Syria solid stand, led by His Excellency President Bashar Assad, the BASP National Secretary.

Arab Unity Experiments and Projects 1700-2000 G

The Pan-Arab research Institution issued a book, titled "Arab Unity Experiments and Projects", within a series of National Researches in November 2009.

Cmd Abdullah Alahmar introduced the book by reviewing the campaigns of accusations and condemnation of the national (pan-Arab) thought or intellect. Then came the old European Colonialism, and after it, the US new conservatives.

But the Arabs, thanks to the firm stand of Syria, led by His Excellency President Bashar Assad, could confront this danger which was threatening their existence as a nation. The resistance in Iraq, Lebanon and Palestine fought unequal war and won a great strategic victory that forced the American project to retreat, not only on the Arab arena, but on all arenas of international strategic conflict.
